CARD INFO

Explora Deck

Back

This indicates the difficulty of the planet.
A planet's difficulty ranges from...
Low, Moderate, Risky, Dangerous and Extreme
A Higher difficulty means more rewards for the player!

Front

This indicates the 'Strength' of the enemy that the player must deal equal or greater damage to.

This indicates the amount of 'Reward' Cards that defeating the enemy will grant the player.

Reward Deck

Back

This indicates the 'Value' of the card, All reward cards can be 'thrown' to deal damage equal to its value.
The player must discard the card if they decide to 'Throw' it.

Front

This indicates that this reward card is a 'Consumable'.
Consumable cards have an effect that can aid the player who uses it, once used it is discarded.

This indicates that this reward card is an 'Obstruction'.
Obstruction cards have an effect that harms the opposing player, once used it is discarded.

This text indicates the card's effect

GUNS and DICE

Each 'Gun' that the player owns (including the player's ship token) represents how many dice the player can roll during combat. Each player can only have a maximum of 3 extra guns (resulting in a 4 dice maximum).
Players can construct more guns by combining the 3 'Gun Part' cards [Receiver, Chamber and Barrel]

HOW TO PLAY

Gameplay for Each Round

Draw 3 cards from the explore deck, and place them face down.

Both players place their ship token on the planet they wish to explore.

The players can then flip over their chosen planet to begin to scout out the planet.

If the player(s) has any 'Consumable'  Cards, they are able to use them at this time, to help them on their exploration.

Visting the Same Planet

If the players visit the same planet, they can combine the damage they have to defeat the enemy. If they are successful, the resources gained are divided by half, and rounded down. ($3/2 = 1$)

Once the player has scouted out the planet, they can begin combat.

In order to defeat the enemy, the player must deal damage equal or greater than the enemy's strength.

The player can optionally 'throw' up to 5 'Reward' Cards to deal damage equal to total of the 'thrown' cards Value'

The player than can roll one 6-sided die for each Gun that they own.

'Obstruction'  cards are used after the player has 'thrown' cards, but before the player has rolled their die

If the player has successfully defeated the enemy on their explore planet, they gain 'Reward' Cards up to the amount designated by the planet they explored.

Once both players have finished exploring their chosen planets, the players start a new round

The Boss

In order for a player to win, they must challenge and defeat the boss.

The players can always choose to challenge the boss at the beginning of any round, (as if they were exploring a boss planet).
